Abstrak

The education of a nations children constitutes a momentum that cannot be ignored by the nation concerned if it is to survive.

Education is a step that should be planned in order to face the challenges of the moment. Education is an effort to prepare potentials for anticipating future problems. Education is also an effort to develop oneself multi dimensionally, so that the human quality of nation is really preserved and improved.

Therefore, education is not the problem for certain families only, or for certain educational institution, even for certain educational workers only, but the responsibility of the entire nations.

Groups of people in the world of politics, economy, social, and culture have the same responsibility in saving the nations education. Everyone with their respective background of expertise, ability, and power, should care for education design.

Communication among all paties should be developed for the take of respecting other paties aspiration and especially for saving the nations future through the right and correct nation education system
