Abstrak

The aim of the reaserch was to get empirical evidence of the speaking ability of the fourth grade students in Pamulang, South Tangerang. The population of the research was 38 students of the fourth grade students of SDN Pamulang Timur 2 in Pamulang, South Tangerang. The sample of the research was 20 students of the fourth grade students taken through randomize sampling.

The result of the descriptive study has shown that the hypothesis of the ttest is $t_0 > t_t$, it means that the test-observed 7.58 is higher than the t-table of 0.127. In other words, the t- test observed of 7.58 is significant and rejects the null hypothesis. Thus, working hypothesis is accepted. Therefore, it can be concluded that the using of role play had taken the important and positively effective to the students' speaking ability in SDN Pamulang Timur 2, South Tangerang.
