AOL'S DIET COACH

AND THE CREATOR OF 3HourDiet.net

P.S. This practical guide complements the original New York Times best-selling 3-Hour Diet™, which contains more than 50 homemade recipes. If you can spare some time to enjoy cooking, you won't want to miss that book. But with this convenient guide, no cooking is necessary.

ONE

QUICK GUIDE TO THE 3-HOUR DIET™

The 3-Hour Diet™ is about uncovering the buried concept of timing—the fact that when you eat is critical to weight loss. By eating every 3 hours you'll constantly Set Your Metabolism in Motion™ and lose 2 pounds every week starting with belly fat first. You will never have to count calories or ban any foods, including carbs.

So how does the 3-Hour Diet™ work exactly? The answer is found in what I call Time-Based Nutrition™. It's the future of effective nutrition. No more low-carb dieting. No more fad dieting. Time-Based Nutrition™ is a brand-new category of dieting. It's the power of combining smart eating with smart timing. Yes, timing. You see, the secret to losing weight and keeping it off has to do with much more than what you eat, it's also when you eat.

Why every 3 hours? Countless research studies confirm the power of eating every 3 hours. What specifically happens if you wait more than 3 hours to eat? Well, after 3 hours your body passes a tipping point and launches its natural "starvation protection mechanism," or SPM. When your SPM is switched on, your body preserves the most calorie-rich tissue in the body to ensure your survival. That tissue is body fat. But there's even more bad news. It's critical to know that anytime you allow more than 3 hours to pass between meals, your body preserves body fat and begins to cannibalize precious fat-burning muscle. Yes, by waiting more than 3 hours to eat you lose muscle tissue.

Why is losing lean muscle devastating to your health? Lean muscle tissue is your metabolism.

Bottom line: it burns fat and thus sets your metabolism in motion. Lean muscle tissue manages how many calories you burn while doing nothing, whether you're resting on the couch, driving your car, sitting at the computer, or even when sleeping in your bed. Each pound of muscle burns approximately 50 calories every day doing absolutely nothing. Lose just 5 pounds of muscle and your metabolism burns 250 fewer calories a day. In the course of just one year that will equal 26 pounds of new fat—no wonder dieting has been so difficult! Make sure to visit 3hourdiet.net to get a free profile to help you determine how much muscle you've lost.

There is one more devastating consequence of not eating every 3 hours: increased cortisol levels. What exactly is cortisol? It's a stress hormone that is closely associated with abdominal fat. The good news is that medical research has shown that eating every 3 hours helps reduce levels of cortisol, and that is the key to losing belly fat first. For more on this, make sure to read chapter 5 of the original 3-Hour Diet™.

Okay, so what are the smartest foods to eat? The best foods are the foods you love in the proper serving. Yes, the secret is choosing the right amounts of the foods you enjoy. My core philosophy is that there are no bad foods, just bad timing and unhealthy portions. Banning the foods you love will guarantee failure. For this reason I created the 3-Hour Plate™ in the original 3-Hour Diet™. It shows you how to avoid calorie counting and saves your precious time by helping you stay organized with a visual system.

But here's the best news about this little book: since it is for people on the go, you won't even need to use the 3-Hour Plate™ to eat the right foods. My nutrition team and I have done all the work for you! Yes, we have researched your favorite fast-food joints, family restaurants, meal replacement bars, and even a few more special things to bring you the ultimate guide-book to enjoying the 3-Hour Diet™ with no hassles and, best of all, no cooking!

That is why you will love this easy-to-use guide.

Why Do Low-Carb Diets Make You Fat?

In the short term, low-carb diets absolutely lead to weight loss. In the long term, you will end up gaining the weight back and you may find that you have added new pounds, too. The bottom line is this: Anytime you go on a high-protein diet, which is low in carbs, you begin to lose up to 25 percent of your lean muscle. Lean muscle tissue, as I shared with you earlier, is essential for an active fat-burning metabolism.

Specifically, low-carb diets erode muscle in three major ways:

- A) Low-carb diets deplete the sugar (glycogen) stored in your muscles.
- B) Low-carb diets flush water out of your muscles.
- C) Low-carb diets can cause fatigue and/or depression, which leads to a sedentary lifestyle. When you don't move, you lose muscle faster.

Finally, if you deprive yourself of carbs, you will eventually binge on them. I have worked with 3 million online clients at 3hourdiet.net and they've told me about this time and time again. It's practically a fact. Deprivation leads to bingeing and long-term failure.

Basic rules for the 3-Hour Diet™

1. Eat Every 3 Hours

Frequent meals will help keep your metabolism running smoothly for the whole day. The key is eating throughout the day, with 3 hours between meals. In other words, if you eat breakfast at 7 a.m., have a snack at 10 a.m., eat lunch at 1 p.m., have another snack at 4 p.m., and finally eat dinner at 7 p.m., you can finish off the day by having your treat, which may be eaten with dinner or anytime within the next 3 hours before bed. It's up to you! This is a perfect eating schedule, and I strongly recommend you closely follow this time pattern.

2. Bend and Flex

Is your schedule unique? Not a problem! The 3-Hour Diet™ is designed to bend and flex with your daily schedule for stress-free dieting. For ideal results I recommend you stick as closely to the plan as possible, but, more important, stick to these three basic principles:

1. Eat absolutely as close to every 3 hours as possible
2. Eat the 3 recommended meals, 2 snacks, and treat each day
3. Eat breakfast within 1 hour of rising

Here are some sample plans to help you understand how the 3-Hour Diet™ can adapt to your schedule with ease:

FOR THE VERY LATE RISER:

Noon: Brunch

3 p.m.: Snack

6 p.m.: Lunch (early dinner) AND snack*

9 p.m.: Dinner AND treat*

*NOTE: Combining snacks and treats with meals is Okay!

FOR THE LATE RISER:

- 10 a.m.: Breakfast
- 1 p.m.: Lunch*
- 4 p.m.: Snack
- 7 p.m.: Dinner
- 9 p.m.: Treat AND snack

*NOTE: Snack skipped between lunch and dinner, and combined with treat

FOR THE EARLY BIRD:

- 4 a.m.: Breakfast
- 7 a.m.: Snack
- 10 a.m.: Lunch
- 1 p.m.: Snack
- 4 p.m.: Dinner
- 7 p.m.: Treat

*NOTE: You're up early, so chances are you will be going to bed early, too. Eating every 3 hours should not interrupt your schedule.

3. Select the Right Number of Calories

You should consume 1,450 calories a day. Although I've done all of the calorie counting for you, I thought you'd like to see how those calories break down into meals and snacks.

Sample day

7 a.m.

Breakfast—400 calories of balanced nutrients

10 a.m.

Snack A—100 calories

1 p.m.

Lunch—400 calories of balanced nutrients

4 p.m.

Snack B—100 calories

7 p.m.

Dinner—400 calories of balanced nutrients

10 p.m.

Treat—50 calories

NOTE: Visit 3hourdiet.net for more examples.

Depending on your current weight, you may need to adjust this plan according to your personal metabolism. Assuming you weigh less than 200 pounds, the above plan will work for you. However, if you weigh more, make the following changes:

- 200 to 249 pounds: double your snack size to 200 calories
- 250 to 299 pounds: triple your snack size to 300 calories
- 300 pounds or more: raise your snack size to 400 calories OR add another meal

As your weight drops, adjust to the next calorie selection to continue losing 2 pounds a week. If you weigh less than 150 pounds and are short in stature (under 5'3"), 1,450 calories may be too much food for you. You can solve this simply by cutting your breakfast in half and eating only 200 calories during this meal, for a total daily intake of 1,250 calories. See page 85 of the original 3-Hour Diet™ for even more details.

Two Secrets to Ensuring Your Success

- Secret #1: Stay organized
- Secret #2: Avoid emotional eating

How will you stay organized? Your secret weapon will be what I call the 3-Hour Timeline™. Here's how you create your timeline: each day you will need a piece of paper and a pen (see page 13). On your sheet of paper draw a long vertical line with an arrow pointing down. This line will represent your day. At the top of the paper, draw one small horizontal line that crosses the vertical line. This will be your breakfast. Continue with five more horizontal lines to represent your snack, lunch, second snack, and dinner. Finally, add one last horizontal line (your sixth line down) for your treat. Your treat may be eaten with dinner.

Next, on the far left, indicate the time you choose to eat each meal, snack, and treat. It's that simple.

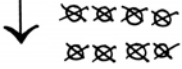

Now for the fun part! On the right, just pick your favorite foods from the lists on pages 22 to 107.

Don't forget to include eight circles at the bottom to represent eight glasses of water. Although water is not a food, it is essential for weight loss. Why? Research has shown that drinking one 16-ounce glass of water will boost your metabolism by 30 percent within 40 minutes and will keep it elevated for more than an hour. My recommendation is to drink 1 ounce of water for every 2 pounds of body weight. If you weigh 160 pounds, aim for 80 ounces. Always make sure to drink the cleanest water you can find. My tip to my online clients is to try Penta® Water. It undergoes a 13-step, 11-hour purification process designed to remove every possible impurity including arsenic, bacteria, chlorine, chromium-6, fluoride, lead, MTBE, and pesticides.

And if you are looking for the easiest way to create your 3-Hour Timeline™, make sure to visit 3HourDiet.net to create customized daily plans in a pinch.

A Sample 3-Hour Timeline™:

7 AM	Breakfast	-Lean Pocket -½ cup cottage cheese + fruit
10 AM	Snack	-Dannon -Light 'N Fit Smoothie
1 PM	Lunch	-McDonald's Cheeseburger -side salad
4 PM	Snack	-Granola Bar (Low-Fat)
7 PM	Dinner	-Healthy Choice Tuna Casserole -side salad
10 PM	Treat	-Reese's Peanut Butter Cup

Now, to stay motivated, I highly recommend you take a “before” photo right now. I know you may be thinking, “Jorge, I don’t want to take a picture. I don’t like how I look.” Believe me, I didn’t want to take the picture of me that you probably saw on page xiii of this book. But it’s important! Taking a picture before you start the program symbolizes that you're about to change. It signifies that you are finally taking action—that it's time for a new beginning. More important, you'll love it when you have lost the weight and have a new, fantastic photo to compare it to. You'll be amazed by your changes. Make sure to e-mail your photos and success story to us at success@3hourdiet.net, and I will e-mail you back. You might even appear in a future book or on my 3hourdiet.net site.

Additionally, what I would like you to do next is write down your goal weight and target date on the next page. Your target date is the anticipated date on which you will reach your goal. Here is how that works: All you need to do is subtract your current weight from your goal weight and that will give you a number. Say it's 50 pounds. And if it's 50 pounds, you simply divide it by the number 2. Why 2? Because on average you will be losing 2 pounds every week. So there it is, the number of weeks it will take you to achieve your goal. Get out your calendar and circle that wonderful date because this is going to become your new birth date—the date you finally begin to live the life you have been dreaming of!

How to Avoid Emotional Eating

This is a subject that is almost always overlooked in weight-loss plans. Well, not here. What exactly is emotional eating? Here's the big answer: It's eating anytime you are not hungry. It's that simple and yet it's the #1 saboteur of almost all dieters.

I used to be an emotional eater. The truth is, as a kid and young man, food was my best friend and I turned to it anytime I felt an emotional challenge. My parents never taught me healthy ways to manage these kinds of challenges. So I simply coped with my problems via food. It was my solution to every difficult emotion I encountered.

How did I overcome it? In the original 3-Hour Diet™ I shared my People Solution™ plan, which explains how to eliminate emotional eating. For now, here's my super-quick explanation.

If you feel you are about to eat emotionally, ask yourself the following question:

“Is this what I really need?”

Odds are (if you are about to eat for emotional reasons) the answer to the question is . . .

No!

But you might be saying to yourself, “I want to feel better . . . I am sad, I am depressed. I am lonely, I am angry, I am stressed, I am overwhelmed, I need to feel better now, etc. . . .”

Here’s the trick: instead of using food yet again as a crutch that will later make you feel guilty and of course make you even more overweight, use something you have not used in years.

Do you know what this is?

YOU.

Yep, you need to become your own best friend—fast. You need to nurture yourself in this time of need. How do you effectively nurture yourself? How do you do it quickly? How can you fill yourself up with something more powerful and stronger than food?

The solution is simple. You need to see your desired future now.

Lunch/Dinner: Restaurant Meal Options

When you go to a restaurant, it can be intimidating to ask for a meal your way—but remember, you’re paying the money to be there! The establishment and servers are there to make your dining experience the best it can be, and they will be the first to assert that the customer is always right. Here are a few tips I find helpful when eating out.

- Ask for a “to-go” box before your food is even delivered. Once your plate arrives, divide food into 3-Hour Plate™ portions and put the rest in the box to eat for another meal. That way the decision is already made and you won’t accidentally overindulge.
- Request all sauces and dressings on the side.
- Always request low-fat, nonfat or low-calorie salad dressings. If that’s not an option, try requesting some olive oil and vinegar or lemon so you can manage the amount you use.

- Ask about preparation—select options that are grilled or baked, not fried.
- Request that bread be removed from the table once you take a piece so you're not tempted to keep nibbling and fill up before your meal arrives.
- Order “à la carte”—you don't need the whole plate of enchiladas, plus salad, chips and rice and beans. Select individual items from the “à la carte” section to keep your meal the right size.

My team and I have discovered great dining options at some nationwide chains. Although some of the meals fall into the 3-Hour Plate™, others require you to follow some of the rules above.

be fine. Stick to soup and salad if you want to play it safe. If they have a fresh-cut sandwich section, ask for half a salad to go with your sandwich and finish off with a vegetable soup. Lunch/Dinner: Frozen Meal Options

Frozen meals always include a salad.

Remember—these are easy to pick up at the store for a quick lunch at the office, but you need to supplement them with an easy salad. You can make the salad at home, or many grocery stores and delis have salad bars where you can put together the following:

If cheese is not in your frozen meal, choose from the following selections of salads:

- Add a large romaine lettuce salad complete with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of boiled artichoke hearts, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup steamed green beans, and 1 ounce of Monterey Jack cheese. Drizzle with 1 tablespoon of low-fat or nonfat dressing, or use 1 teaspoon of flaxseed oil with a squeeze of lemon.
- Add a large spinach salad with 1 ounce of feta cheese and 1 cup steamed and sliced eggplant. Drizzle with 1 tablespoon of low-fat or nonfat balsamic dressing, or 1 teaspoon of flaxseed oil with a squeeze of lemon.

If your frozen meal does include cheese, choose from the following selections of salads:

- Add a large iceberg lettuce salad with 1 medium tomato (sliced or cubed) and 1 cup of an assortment of sliced bell peppers. Drizzle with 1 tablespoon of low-fat or nonfat dressing or use 1 teaspoon of flaxseed oil with a squeeze of lemon.
- Add a large spinach salad with whole or sliced mushrooms and a sprinkle of radish slices. Drizzle with 1 tablespoon of low-fat or nonfat balsamic dressing or 1 teaspoon of flaxseed oil with a squeeze of lemon.

Eating at Events

In this bonus section, you will find a number of bonus resources designed to keep you inspired on your 3-Hour Diet™ journey. First, I want to share a number of success stories from my clients who took the 3-Hour challenge and won. In these stories, they share their powerful secrets to success!

SUCCESS STORY 1

MICHELE TROMBLEY—LOST 77 POUNDS

HEIGHT: 5'7½"

AGE: 40

STARTING WEIGHT: 207 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT: 130 lbs.

OTHER: Married 17 years with twins (a boy and a girl); works part-time at an elementary school “Last August after a long vacation in Florida with my husband and 13-year-old twins, I could no longer look at myself in a photo let alone a mirror. One morning I woke up to my favorite show Good Morning America, and there was Jorge talking with Diane Sawyer.

“I wanted a healthy plan because I knew from taking the dieting plunge so many times that I did not want to deprive myself or I would quit as I always did.

“I started eating the way Jorge recommended. Looking at my dinner plate in a whole new way seemed too easy but I loved it! That first week I was feeling better than I had felt in years and I lost 7 pounds! On my birthday I reached my goal weight and I feel younger and better than ever.”

MICHELE'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Prioritize everything that is important, either in your head or on a calendar or piece of paper.
- Get ready the night before for your next day. Have lunches and dinners decided for the week so that when you go shopping you only get the things you need.
- Keep it healthy—don't deprive yourself!

SUCCESS STORY 2

CLAIRE ALPERT—LOST 13 POUNDS

HEIGHT: 5'3"

AGE: 25

STARTING WEIGHT: 131

lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT: 118

lbs.

OTHER: Works full time
(12- to 14-hour days);
very little free time

“Before Jorge Cruise, I saw a heavy, struggling, tired person. Someone who exercised but many times ate too much (and knew it), snacked too often, and craved sugar all the time. I was consistently disappointed with the way pants fit, my face in photos, my thighs in general, and the size of my calves.

“I saw my mom recently and she exclaimed, ‘You look so skinny!’ My mom’s comment and other people’s comments motivate me to further my efforts in maintaining my weight and my commitment to Jorge's great, easy, explainable 3-hour plan. Not only can I explain why the plan works to myself but I can also explain it to others—it is a livable plan."

CLAIRE'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Plan! Plan! Plan!
- If you have a hectic schedule, have lots of snacks like Pria bars, almonds, fruit, and other easy-to-eat items close at hand.
- Drink a glass of water before you go out or go shopping so you're not empty when you order or arrive, and then eat the wrong thing or too much.

SUCCESS STORY 3

MARIA BRANDMAIER—LOST 155 POUNDS

AGE: 40

STARTING WEIGHT:
310 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT:
155 lbs.

OTHER: Happily married stay-at-home mom of three children

“The image in the mirror before I started Jorge Cruise’s 3-Hour Diet™ was not me. I did not know who that person was. I felt I was wearing a sign for the world to see that said ‘undisciplined woman who can’t lose weight.’ I was constantly thinking about my weight. I would tell myself, ‘I need to do something,’ ‘tomorrow I will be good,’ ‘I’ll never be able to lose over a hundred pounds’ and so on.

“From the very first day, I knew this was different. Eating every three hours helped me to focus on what I was eating, how much I was eating, and how often I was eating. It helped me stop all the 'mindless eating' and to make better and healthier choices.

"I'm now a woman taking charge of her health and her life. I'm proud that I worked hard and sweated off every pound. When I look in the mirror now, I know the woman looking back at me!"

MARIA'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Make lists. Plan ahead for the next day and just do it!
- Buy a journal to keep track of your eating and exercise routine. Mark off every day that you exercise. Once you see all of the marks, you'll be motivated to keep it up.
- Add in Jorge's 8 Minutes in the Morning® exercises for more fat burning, toning, and firming!

SUCCESS STORY 4

DENNIS VARGAS—LOST 50 POUNDS

AGE: 38

STARTING WEIGHT: 245 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT: 195 lbs.

OTHER: A father of 3 small children; works as an interpreter and actor

“Before the 3-Hour Diet™, I was not comfortable with my body. At first I thought it was part of getting older and being a dad. My acting career was at a standstill. I was a dad who had no energy for his kids.

“I was booked for a small role on a prime-time show (Law & Order: SVU). I was playing a morgue assistant and when they asked me what size scrubs they thought I wore, I told them large. I was wrong. They had to get me an XL. When I saw my brief moment on television I saw a fuller face than I was expecting.

“I started the 3-Hour Diet™ as a birthday gift to myself and have now been doing Jorge’s program consistently for a year. I have become a poster child for Jorge’s program in my neighborhood, at my job, and to family members. I feel motivated because I have motivated others.”

DENNIS’S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- If you have kids, aim to set a good example for them.
- Watch television programs that make you think about your health, such as those offered on Discovery Health.
- Make your morning exercises a routine, as routine as brushing your teeth. If you can, do Jorge’s 8 Minute Moves™ right in the bathroom after you brush your teeth.

SUCCESS STORY 5

ELEANOR TALBOT—LOST 78 POUNDS

AGE: 44

STARTING WEIGHT:
324 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT:
233 lbs.

OTHER: A happily married full-time meteorologist and published author.

“Before I started Jorge’s plan I was just existing. I didn’t truly care for myself and was constantly doing things for others. I also had many ‘thorns’ to deal with, including the sudden loss of my father, caring for my chronically ill husband and constantly rotating shifts at my job.

“Everything has changed since I started the plan—not only my physical appearance, which surprises me every day, but the way I feel on the inside. I feel so much happier about myself. I’m learning about what I have going on with ME—thinking about ME first, taking care of myself first, and then letting everything else in my life fall into place.

“In addition to my weight loss and healthy outlook, my cholesterol and blood pressure have dropped. I can no longer wear plus size ‘1X’ tops; they’re way too big for me!”

ELEANOR'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Communication—This is key!! You must keep in touch with others in order to understand yourself and to get the help and support you need to succeed!
- Do your 8 Minute Moves™ every day! Keep going, even if you don't feel up to it. You will feel better when you do.
- Journal, journal, journal! Get to know what makes you tick, and what ticks you off. Get it off your mind by writing it down. You'll feel better!

SUCCESS STORY 6

PAUL LICHTENSTEIN—LOST 40 POUNDS

HEIGHT: 5'10"

AGE: 53

STARTING WEIGHT:
228 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT:
188 lbs.

OTHER: A retired naval officer working a second career in information technology; married with three grandchildren.

“Before the 3-Hour Diet™ I was ashamed that I had let myself get so out of shape! I was embarrassed at how I looked and was not comfortable in my clothes.

“I was raised thinking that I had to finish everything on my plate. Now, once I feel full, I stop eating even if there is still food left. What a relief. It didn’t take me long to realize I could eat my fill, feel full, and still stay on Jorge's plan. I lost weight doing it this way and I love the results!

“Since being on Jorge's program, I am comfortable with myself, I fit into my clothes, my wife loves how I look, and I can look in the mirror at my slimmer body and feel good about how I look. I am more confident at work because I feel better about myself.”

PAUL'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Prioritize! Prioritize! Prioritize! Look at what you have to do for the day, week, month, and prioritize those tasks.
- Feel good about yourself. Find snacks you like and enjoy them. My favorite snacks are trail mix and yogurt cups.
- When you get the urge to eat, ask yourself whether that urge is based on true hunger or an emotional need.

SUCCESS STORY 7

TASHA HALL—LOST 52 POUNDS

HEIGHT: 5'7½"

AGE: 33

STARTING WEIGHT: 187 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT: 135 lbs.

OTHER: a stay-at-home mom with 2 young children

“Ten months ago, when I looked in the mirror, I saw: Mother, Wife, Daughter, Sister, Niece, Granddaughter, Aunt, Cousin . . . the list goes on and on. I put everyone and everything else first. I had a 2-month-old and a 3-year-old. I think when I decided to give everything to my kids, I lost myself.

“After my now 3-year-old son was born, I joined an expensive gym, wanting to make the effort. But of course I never went. I didn’t stick with it because of the lack of financial resources and lack of willpower.

“The 3-Hour Diet™ changed my life. Sure, I lost the 52 pounds I set out to lose. But something else happened. I transformed on the inside as well. I love myself more. I love my husband and kids more (if that’s possible). When I look in the mirror now, I have finally found ME behind the Mother, Wife, Daughter, and Sister.”

TASHA'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Keep food temptations out of the house. When it’s out of sight, it’s out of your mouth.
 - Plan your day and your week ahead of time.
 - Always have healthy snacks in your car or purse so that you can stay on schedule.
 - When you go to a social setting, try to focus on the importance of the people and not the food. Eat a healthy snack ahead of time or bring a healthy option to share.
 - Stay focused on why you want to lose the weight and have a healthier lifestyle.

SUCCESS STORY 8

PHYLLIS McCLANAHAN—LOST 65 POUNDS

HEIGHT: 5'3"

AGE: 56

STARTING WEIGHT:
252 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT:
187 lbs.

OTHER: Full-time career woman, grandmother of 3

“Before I started the 3-Hour Diet™ I was pretty much okay with myself, even though I knew my weight was a problem. It didn’t affect my ability to do things. I was active in sports and always had a fun social life.

“I was never that concerned; whenever I wanted to lose 40 pounds I’d eliminate carbs from my diet. I’d lose quickly, but then I’d gradually gain it back plus more. I didn’t care if the diet was healthy and I yo-yo’d all my life.

“Now I get it. It’s about a lifestyle change. I still eat what I want, but I've learned the nutritional value associated with it. Instead of depriving myself of things, I eat them in moderation. The best thing is when I get off track a little (which happens), I don't gain. I don't have to go back and start over. It's the first time in my life I've kept 65 pounds off."

PHYLIS'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Put your meals in your computer scheduler so it will beep and remind you to eat.
- Know that being healthy is your choice. Do it for you.
- Create a weight-loss group at 3hourdiet.net; it's a great support network and a fun way to meet new people.

SUCCESS STORY 9
KAREN TAPORCO—LOST 36 POUNDS (20 INCHES)

HEIGHT: 5'3"

AGE: 34

STARTING WEIGHT:
175 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT:
139 lbs.

OTHER: Married full-time professional

“I had tried and failed at weight loss many times. It seemed as if I was always dieting, but never making any progress. I felt frumpy. I would hide behind huge, baggy clothes and hated to shop because nothing ever fit. I fell into a sedentary lifestyle where food became my pleasure.

“It wasn’t until the Jorge Cruise plan that I learned to eat balanced meals. I never realized how many calories were in some of the fast-food and junk-food choices I made on a weekly basis. Many times I would eat as many calories in one meal as I now eat in an entire day. I'm amazed that I don't crave those bad foods anymore, and that I am comfortable knowing how to make the right choices. This has definitely been an easy program to follow and I have seen amazing results. Who knew it could be this easy and enjoyable?"

KAREN'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Plan breakfast time based on a certain event for the day. For example, if you have a business luncheon at noon, eat breakfast at 6 a.m., followed by a snack 3 hours later.
- Keep a freezer full of frozen entrees, so you can grab a quick meal without much preparation.
- Remember, nothing is off limits, you just have to be mindful of how much to eat and when to eat it.

SUCCESS STORY 10

CATHY ARREDONDO—LOST 70 POUNDS

HEIGHT: 5'5"

AGE: 47

STARTING WEIGHT: 235 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT: 165 lbs.

OTHER: A single mom with 2 grown children; works
full time

“Before the 3-Hour Diet™, I was miserable. I’d been an overweight child, an overweight teenager, and an overweight adult. My weight continued to climb through two pregnancies and a divorce. At the age of 30, I was diagnosed with lupus. My medication not only caused me to gain 50 more pounds but made my body and face look bloated. I looked like a balloon.

“I discovered the 3-Hour Diet™. Finally, a program that makes sense! The food plan seemed easy to follow. I believed this program would work and that I was worth the effort. I realized I could no longer continue to live my life this way. I had had enough!

Now, I am truly amazed at my appearance. It still surprises me! I sometimes catch a glimpse of myself in a reflection and it takes me a minute to realize 'Hey, that's me!' ”

CATHY'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Face your emotional issues head-on rather than using food to solve them.
- Plan and prepare meals and snacks ahead of time.
- Get support from family and friends.
- Keep a scrapbook that details your weight-loss journey.

SUCCESS STORY 11

LORI BROWN—LOST 85 POUNDS

HEIGHT: 5'4"

AGE: 45

STARTING WEIGHT: 240 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT: 155 lbs.

OTHER: Busy wife, mother of three small children

“After having my third child I looked in the mirror one day and realized I didn’t recognize myself anymore. I had my children 18 months apart and late in my life. Although I loved my children and my husband I found myself very unhappy with my life. I just figured this was motherhood and I better get used to it.

“My weight (or the way I felt at this weight) was hurting my relationships with both my children and my husband. This stressed me out and I ate more. I began trying every diet I could find and would lose weight in the first two weeks, but would put it all back on in the next few weeks.”

“It wasn’t until I met Jorge Cruise and started doing his 3-Hour Diet™ that I found myself losing weight and at the same time eating more food than I had eaten in the past. I began seeing the changes and then feeling the changes in me. I started looking in the mirror and caught myself smiling back. My family noticed these positive changes too. I was becoming me again. What a great feeling!

“I now wake up every morning excited and eager to get in shape, and healthier than I’ve ever been. I have more energy to keep up with my three kids and yes, energy left over to enjoy time with my husband.

“Life is great!”

LORI'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS

- Surround yourself with healthy choices.
- Buy an outfit in the next size down and aim to fit in it.
- Carry healthy snacks in your purse so you don't get hungry on the go and make a bad choice.

A BONUS SUCCESS STORY . . .

SUSAN ROSENBERG

One of my most successful clients, Susan Rosenberg, is a star when it comes to grocery shopping and portioning her food. I thought it'd be great to include an update on her continued success and asked her to share some of her best tips!

Since first being featured in The 3-Hour Diet™ she has lost 33 more pounds for a total of 120 lost!

HEIGHT: 5'3"

AGE: 45

STARTING WEIGHT: 273 lbs.

CURRENT WEIGHT: 153 lbs.

OTHER: Mother of a 22-year-old son in college; executive with a nationwide corporation.

“In January 2004, six months before starting the 3-Hour Diet™, I became a vegetarian and gained even more weight, finally topping off at 287! I managed to lose 10 pounds by learning more about the proper way to eat vegetarian.

“I saw Jorge on the news at the end of May 2004 and applied to be part of his 3-Hour Diet book. When I was contacted that I was selected I cried. I also realized that this was a sign of a new beginning for me. I never missed a meeting and I lived the 3-Hour Diet™ religiously.

“After a few weeks of losing 2 to 3 pounds per week I went one step further and started portioning out every meal and every snack. My motto is ‘nothing stays in my house in its original package.’

“I am very busy like most people, taking care of my mother’s needs at home, caring for my disabled sister and brother-in-law 100 miles away, and working for a major corporation. I also do a lot of volunteering for animal rescue every day.

“Even with all of that I know I have no excuse for failing if I plan ahead! Every Sunday I shop in the morning and prepare my weekly meals and snacks. Every other Sunday I spend time preparing soups, chili, stir-fries, and my own frozen dinners. All in all it takes most of the morning on those Sundays.

“Monday through Sunday I have gallon-size Ziplok® bags with the entire day’s food inside. I never go anywhere without my personal cooler and my water. I always carry extra meal bars just in case. I eat a lot of fresh fruit and veggies for my snacks as I feel they are much more satisfying. I also always wear my 3-hour timer—even now I might miss my eating time if I don’t pay attention.

“I never let anything get in the way and I am able to keep my schedule as well as everyone else’s as I am always prepared. No matter what, I never leave home without my cooler. Sometimes, if where I am has a better, appropriate meal, I eat it and save mine for another time. It will always stay fresh and cold in my cooler. I am coming up on 10 months of this and I am down 120 pounds!

“I wore a size 24 at our first meeting. I wore a size 10 to our most recent meeting and am still losing. I am much more active now and it goes without saying how truly wonderful I feel.
“I owe it all to being prepared!”

Anywhere Visualizations

Whenever you have a rough day or moment—one of those times when you’re feeling stressed or depressed or particularly vulnerable—turn to these visualizations for help. They will give you the internal drive you need to remain steadfast in your goals.

I’ve always believed in the power of visualization. The saying “what you see is what you get” applies. When you create a positive mental picture in your mind, you set off a series of events that help to create that picture in reality. So cultivate the image of a healthier, happier, trimmer you and you’ll be well on your way to 3-Hour Diet™ success!

Visualization 1

Today you are going to take a journey one year into the future. Close your eyes and take a few deep, relaxing breaths.

You are getting ready to attend a wedding for your best friend, and you are the maid or matron of honor or best man! See yourself pull the long, slinky dress out of your closet or admire your tuxedo. Drape your clothes over a chair and take a good look. How do you think you will look all dressed up for the special event? How do you think it will feel on your now-slimmer body?

Pull on your clothes and feel the fabric fall around your body. Notice how your dress or tuxedo feels, how no part of it bunches or grabs. It fits perfectly. Notice your slender arms and how shapely your shoulders are. Turn around and take in your rear view. How do you look? How do you feel?

Now, see yourself a few hours later, dancing at the wedding reception. Notice how all eyes are on you, admiring how you look. See a smile creep across your face. You've reached your goal and you look fantastic.

Visualization 2

Today you are going to see yourself at your goal weight, a few years in the future. Today is the day of your high school class reunion. You haven't seen most of your classmates in many, many years. You are excited to show off what has become of you—how slim, healthy, and happy you are! It's time to get dressed. Imagine what you are wearing. What shoes do you slip on your feet? What jewelry do you put on? How do you style your hair? What makeup do you apply? How do you feel when you look in the mirror? You look great and feel fabulous!

As you approach the entrance of the reunion, take a deep breath and then confidently glide into the room. Whom do you see from high school and what do they say to you? Hear the compliments and "oohs" and "ahs." Tell your classmates how terrific you feel. Later in the evening, a class picture is taken. See yourself, standing tall, lean, and confident among your high school classmates.

Visualization 3

It's time to get dressed up in your finest attire because tonight you are going to shine at a very elegant, formal affair! You are going to wear that little black dress, the one you've kept in the back of your closet for when you had a body to show off. So, close your eyes and take a few relaxing breaths, in through your nose and out through your mouth.

See yourself getting ready for your special occasion. See the black dress hanging in your closet. Walk over to it. Take it out of the closet and drape it over the front of your body. Feel yourself growing excited at the prospect of finally wearing the dress. Lay the dress on your bed and notice every detail about it. Think back to the last time you wore it. How long ago was that? Then pick it up and slip it on. Feel the silky material fall evenly over your body. Put on your shoes and take a look at yourself in the mirror.

See your belly, how nothing bulges. See your slender, toned arms. Then, fast-forward to your big event. See yourself in the ballroom. Sense all of the eyes on you. You are confident and stunning. Dance the night away and enjoy it!

Visualization 5

Today is a glorious summer day filled with sunshine and warm breezes. It's the perfect day to hit the beach. Close your eyes and take a few relaxing breaths, in through your nose and out through your mouth.

You've just gotten off the phone with your friend and you've decided to go spend the day at the beach. You haven't been to the beach in many years, ever since you became too embarrassed to wear a swimsuit in public. But now you've got a beautiful body. So slip on your swimsuit, flip-flops, and wide-brimmed straw hat. You and your friend sing along to oldies music on the way to the beach. Once there, you sink your toes into the hot sand and let out a deep sigh of delight. Doesn't it feel great? As you spread out on your towel, you feel confident and beautiful. Feel the warm rays on your back and give your friend a wink. She comments on how great you look and you reply with a heartfelt “thank you” and tell her just how great you feel. The two of you spend the afternoon gossiping, frolicking in the waves, and strolling the length of the water’s edge.

Visualization 6

Close your eyes and take a few relaxing breaths—in through your nose and out through your mouth. Smile and jump into the future with me.

I want you to visualize yourself after you’ve reached your goal. Notice your entire body. See how fit and firm your arms have become. Notice your vibrant skin. Visualize how your clothes will fall on your body and how your shoes will fit. Imagine the colors, the textures, and the patterns of a favorite outfit that you will be wearing. What does the new you look like? Will you have a new haircut, new look, or new accessories? See your body doing different movements. See yourself walking, sitting at work, or driving in your car. Try to visualize every detail. You've got to smell, hear, touch, and taste your vision to make it a reality.

Visualization 7

Close your eyes and take a few relaxing breaths—in through your nose and out through your mouth. Smile and jump into the future with me. Visualize the day that you reach your goal.

See yourself jump out of bed. As you get dressed, notice how you look. See your new sexy arms, legs, and torso. Go ahead and get dressed, making sure to pick that outfit you've always wanted to wear, but couldn't because of your weight. Notice how your clothes drape loosely over your body. Feel how none of the fabric hugs you or feels tight. Touch your body with your hands. How does it feel? Walk around. Notice that your thighs no longer rub together.

Look in the mirror and see how extraordinary you look and feel. What quality about your new self are you most proud of?

Smile. You've reached your goal!

How to Drink Alcohol

Many clients ask me how to incorporate drinking into their 3-Hour Diet™ lifestyle. Although we recommend that you limit your alcohol intake while on the 3-Hour-Diet™, we have created options for you if, on occasion, you have more than one glass. Choose either option A or B below. Option A allows you to replace your evening treat with one drink and option B allows more than one drink if you follow the “drink reserve” guidelines one page 150.

Option A:

If you feel like having a drink with your dinner in the evening, make it your treat, but be sure it fits the program. Some ideas:

1. Make a 3-Hour Diet™-approved Wine Spritzer. Check the chart on page 144 for tips on how to mix it.
2. Make a 3-Hour Diet™-approved cocktail such as a Seven and Seven with diet soda or Rum and Diet Coke in place of your evening treat. These two are slightly more than 50 calories, but close enough for a thumbs-up. Check the chart on page 144 for tips on how to mix them.

Option B:

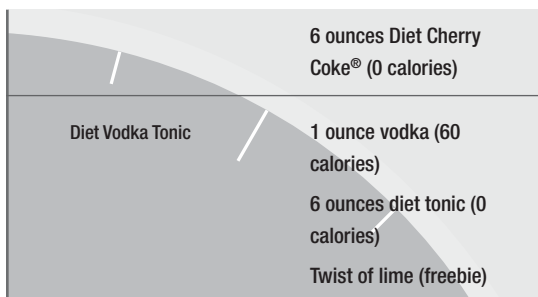

If you want to drink more than offered in Option A, use these 3 steps:

- STEP 1: Set your drink count before you go out.
- STEP 2: Burn the calories before you head out. You've gotta burn extra calories in anticipation of consuming extra calories. That's the secret. See the chart How to Create a Drink Reserve on page 150 to decide how much exercise you need.
- STEP 3: Enjoy yourself!

Note: Watch out for some popular favorites! A 5-ounce Margarita packs a walloping 340 calories! A very cool 4-ounce Cosmopolitan will add 250 calories to your day. You can have them, but you'll need to do more exercise to burn those extra calories.

50—Calorie Treat Drinks

Wine Spritzer	2½ ounces wine (50 calories) 6 ounces seltzer or Diet 7 UP® (0 calories)
Rum and Diet Coke	1 ounce spiced rum (60 calories) 4 ounces Diet Coke® (0 calories) Twist of lime (freebie)
Seven and Diet Seven	1 ounce whiskey (60 calories) 8 ounces diet lemon-lime soda (0 calories) Twist of lime (freebie)
Cherry Bomb Vodka	1 ounce UV Cherry Vodka (60 calories)

Mixing the perfect 3-Hour Diet™-Approved Cocktail

The previous chart contains some favorite cocktails with recipes to help you stay on the program while enjoying yourself. There are a few that stay in the 50-calorie range; you can have one of these in place of a treat in the evening. All of the others are approximately 100 calories, which is the amount burned with each of the Burners I've listed on page 150. Remember, a standard shot glass measures 1½ ounces.

More tips for drinking alcohol on the 3-Hour Diet™

- Remember that serving size is key. If you're not making the drink, be specific with the bartender.
- The proof makes a difference with hard alcohol, so check the bottle. The calorie counts provided in my charts are based on 80-proof; the higher the proof, the higher the calorie count.
- Use the calorie amounts of the different alcoholic drinks on the previous pages to create other suitable 50- and 100-calorie drinks you might like. If you like having a shot, that's fine, just remember the calories still count, and keep track!

How to Create a Drink Reserve

Below you'll find some activities to help you burn off those 100-calorie cocktails. Remember, I don't recommend drinking too much while trying to lose weight, but if you are going to have more than one drink, complete one of the activities below to create the "drink reserve." You have to multiply how long you do the activity by how many drinks you plan to have. If you decide to splurge on a higher-calorie drink, you'll have to exercise more to balance it out.

Burners (each one creates a 100-calorie reserve)	How Long
Walking 3 mph	19 Minutes
Jogging 5 mph	11 Minutes
Energetic dancing	14 Minutes
Active aerobics	12 Minutes
Biking	12 Minutes
Steady swimming	11 Minutes

Vigorous housecleaning (floor scrubbing, vacuuming, sweeping)	20 Minutes
Gardening (raking, mowing, squatting to pull weeds)	15 Minutes
Washing car	20 Minutes

Eating at Events

Living a healthy lifestyle shouldn't mean skipping out on the fun! You can still attend those events you've always enjoyed; you just need to have a plan in place to be sure you don't overindulge on food when you're indulging your active side. Try these tips:

BBQ or Ball Game

Some favorites that won't leave you striking out:

- 1 hamburger with half the bun and ½ cup of pasta salad.
- 3 ribs, corn, and green salad with low-fat dressing.
- Grilled chicken without skin, rice or mashed potatoes, and grilled veggies or fruit salad.
- Reduced-fat hot dog, green salad with a squeeze of lemon, and a small roll or half the bun.
- Turkey burger (patty only), french fries, and a Caesar salad with lemon for dressing.

If you're heading to a BBQ with friends, don't be afraid to bring your own grilling selection. Friends will understand that you're making a concerted effort to be healthy and will support your efforts. You can always sample their green or fruit salad sides or have half of one of their homemade cookies as your treat.

Wedding Event

The happy couple will say “I do,” but a few “no, thanks” on your part can keep you on track. Make the following smart choices in order to keep your own vow:

- Grilled fish, rice, and vegetables. Skip any heavy sauces and season the fish with fresh lemon.
- Chicken, pasta, and salad. Chicken is pretty standard wedding fare. Keep the pasta to a ½-cup serving and watch the salad dressing. Get it on the side and ask for a light option.
- Scallops with broccoli, salad, and a wheat roll. Any salad will do, but skip the butter on your roll if you’re having dressing.
- Omelet with spinach, tomatoes, and potatoes. Ask for egg whites if possible, and keep it to a two-egg omelet if it's whole eggs.

- Sliced roast beef, potato, and green salad. Be careful with creamy sauces and toppings on the potato—you want to have a few calories left for some cake.
- When the cake is served, try two bites and then hit the dance floor!

Parties of All Occasions

Fend off the fried stuff, banish the brie, and picture how great you'll look in your outfit by trying these suggestions at the next cocktail soiree:

- Bruschetta. Small pieces of bread and lots of fresh tomatoes are a tasty treat!
- Fresh veggies and low-cal dip. Focus on the veggies; you can't overdo those.
- Grilled chicken skewers.
- Sushi.

- Turkey wrap rolls. Watch out for heavy spreads: keep them to a minimum if they're covered in mayo.
- Shrimp with cocktail sauce.
- Cheese and crackers. These can add up quickly. Remember to keep your cheese consumption to about the size of two dice.
- Mini quiche. Hold yourself to just a couple of bite-size pieces!

Remember, if the appetizers are your main meal, you can have a bite-size sample of each thing and feel good about your 3-Hour Plate.[™] Look for grilled chicken skewers, shrimp or turkey wraps to get enough protein, and go heavy on the veggies. If dinner is to follow, stick to the veggies and save up for the main attraction!

Don't forget to drink lots of water so you stay hydrated and filled up!

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

From the first day I started the adventure of writing the 3-Hour Diet™ books, it has been the millions of women and men who have trusted me with their health and their weight loss who have continually inspired me and kept me searching for a better way to change the way the world eats. To all of you, I express my undying appreciation and gratitude.

To my wife, Heather, and my amazing little boy, a bundle of life and energy, Parker—coming home to you each day is the greatest joy of my life. You make it all worthwhile, and I consider myself the luckiest man in the world to have both of you in my life.

I always must thank Oprah Winfrey for launching my career as an author, and because she serves as a constant inspiration to me and to millions of others whose lives she touches with her compassion and commitment to excellence.

To Ben Gage, president of my company, my friend and trusted advisor. With your steadfast leadership and support we are continuing to build a company and the strategic relationships that will carry the message of the 3-Hour Diet™ to millions of people around the world.

Of course, my heartfelt thanks go out to my special friends and expert advisors Lisa Sharkey, Carol Brooks, Michele Hatty, Liz Brody, and Jacqui Stafford for their constant support and insightful advice on what people truly want when it comes to dieting.

To our marketing partners for the 3-Hour Diet™ Revolution—Rick and Mike Anderson of PurFoods, creators of the 3-Hour Diet™ At Home Fresh Food Delivery Service; and Al Czap, Scott Sensenbrenner, and Phil Luetkemeyer of Thorne Research, Inc., creators of the 3-Hour Diet™ Meal Replacement products.

Russell Speck and our entire IT team at eJungle who are always there when we need them, day or night, to keep the online pieces of the 3-Hour Diet™ humming.

To Alisa Bauman, whose editorial eye has helped me shape this and my many other books—thank you.

To my advisory circle: Thank you Halle Elbling, MS, RD; Vanessa Aldaz, MPH, RD; Linda Spangle, RN, MA; Janette J. Gray, MD; Cory Baker, CPT, NASM; Chef Bernard Guillas; Andrew Roorda, MD; and Jade Beutler, supplement expert. I am so grateful for your time, efforts, and friendship. Thanks so much!

Everyone at HarperCollins, thank you so much for your continued support of the 3-Hour Diet™ and the launch of our books. Special thank you's to Jane Friedman, Brian Murray, Joe Tessitore, Kathy Huck (the most patient editor in publishing), George Bick, Shelby Meizlik, Jill Goldstein, Tara Cibelli, and everyone else at this amazing company.

Finally, and most important, to my inner team at JorgeCruise.com, Inc. Phyllis McClanahan, Jenn Anderson, Heidi Hageman, Cory

Baker, thank you for making my job so much easier with your passion, commitment, and supreme effort in support of my vision for the 3-Hour Diet™.
